Permanently protecting habitats

Working with overseas conservation partners World Land Trust uses your donations to purchase and protect critically threatened land, saving it from deforestation and linking and extending reserves.

Fighting climate change

Healthy forests are the green lungs of the planet, taking CO₂ from the atmosphere and locking it away. Saving the world's last remaining forests is a crucial way of tackling climate change head on.

Saving species

All World Land Trust projects have been selected because of their high biodiversity value. They are home to threatened wildlife large and small, and hold species yet to be discovered. Saving land can prevent extinction.

Fighting fires for conservation

We are all aware that it takes more than money to make meaningful change, but when it comes to protecting the environment and communities from wildfire, money is one of the most potent tools we have.

With your help we can provide our conservation partners with the right equipment to build fire breaks and be prepared so that at the first hint of flames they are on hand to stop the fire from spreading. Money really can be the difference between a scorched landscape and a saved wildlife haven.

Fires are inevitable; but their impacts are not. Help us to stay ahead of the flames by supporting our appeal to raise £250,000 to fund our partners. Thank you.
